

Constellations And Stars

(Music and Lyrics by David Pavane)

Ay constellations and stars
A sailor's best friend when he's out on the sea
Trying to find his way home
Ay constellations and Stars

Oh for the life of a sailor
To sail on the chill blowing breeze
My guides are stars and constellations
For my trip on the bonny blue seas

My father was also a sailor
Who taught me brothers and I
But before we could chart our ship's direction
He taught us how to multiply

13x1 is 13 he said
13x2 26
13x3 is 39 "look out ahead!"
Or you'll sink like 13 tones of bricks

13x4 is 52 he cried
13x5 65
13x6 is 78
Keep Andromeda on your port side

Orion, Pegasus and the Dog Star
The Dippers both big and small
Seven Sisters each day would show us the way
And the North Star watches over us all

Ay constellations and Stars
A sailor's best friend when he's out on the sea
Trying to find his way home
Ay constellations and stars

13x7 is 91
13x8 104
13x9 is 117
I think I can't see the shore!

13x10 is 130
13x11 is 143
13x12 is 156
We find our way with Hercules

Ay, constellations and stars
A sailor's best friend
When he's out on the sea
Trying to find his way home
And ay, constellations and stars.

13, 26 and 39

In the stars Leo the Lion
52, 65, 78
Orion the hunter looks like a bright figure eight
91, 104, 117
Cassiopeia she is the queen
130, 143, 156
A Pisces sky, look at the fish

Ay, constellations and stars
A sailor's best friend
When he's out on the sea
Trying to find his way home
And Ay, constellations and stars.
Ohhh....Ay, constellations and stars....
Ohhh....Ay, constellations and stars....
Ohhh....Ay, constellations and stars....
